

ROGER'S HANDLING OF RECALCITRANT INDIVIDUALS

WHAT PURPOSE OR INTENTION ARE YOU FOLLOWING/PURSUING?

I had cause just now, while doing a Skype chat with a friend, to reveal a little secret I have used for a very long time to handle recalcitrant individuals.

As many of you know, I spent 12 years doing Solo NOTs, and before that, quite a time on "OT3."

One of the things I observed in those days was that one could collide with a spiritual connection that was simply too "anti-everything" and anti-communication, anti-relationships and against being "handled."

In Scientology terms they were often referred to as "SP" or as being in an enemy condition. And I developed a process for handling these type of individuals . . . strictly "non-standard," of course . . . but then, I am into what works.

Thus, when I ran into these types of Beings who simply were unresponsive to all of the usual "correct" processes, I ran this R/D on and for them.

1) Ask the Being:

“What intention or purpose are you following or pursuing?”

(Sometimes it might need to be conveyed in a manner that relates the purpose being pursued to something more specific than the generality the question seems to be; one can relate it to "our relationship" or "the game of life" "in the universe" . . . what ever is real for the Being you are handling.)

2) As the purpose/intention is found and articulated two things can happen: a) the hung up and dramatized intention/purpose simply evaporates and the Being goes free from the dramatized carrying out of it or, b) the purpose "opens up" such that it now has a time stream that can be addressed which leads to the next question:

“When did you create it (or named purpose/intention)?”

3) Get answer and ask:

“What problem or situation were you solving at the time?”

4) If need be after the Being has answered #3 above, ask:

“What have been the consequences of that solution of (named purpose/intention)?”

This process unlocks the automatic hang up of the Being dramatizing the old wrong answer solution, and the Being is free to play a more ideal and positive game . . . and they typically go free to pursue the better game or otherwise will partner with you in a more optimum relationship.

For you experienced guys, I recommend you include this knowledge in your repertoire of Spiritual Teammate and/or Hidden Who handlings.

Rog

02. April 2017